THE RUSSIAN EFFECT.

One of the very latest ideas in frocks for misses and small women. Ratine combined with Roman silk is used to make it. The Russian tunic is the distinguishing feature of the design.

Pictorial Review pattern No. 5748. Sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years or 32, 34 and 36 bust. Price, 15 cents.

To obtain this pattern fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care Daily Telegram.

The Russian influence predominates in the newest summer modes. This dress for misses and small women shows how well the idea may be developed. It is carried out in blue ratine, the Russian tunic falling over a foundation that is faced with a deep band of Roman striped silk.

To make the dress will require 3 1/4 yards of ratine, 44 inches wide and 2 yards of 40-inch Roman silk. If lace is used for the vest 1/2 yard 18 inches will be required.

The home dressmaker need not hesitate to attempt cutting the dress. Although there are many parts to the pattern, they can be so arranged on the material that there will not be any waste, neither will there be any excuse for error. The back gore (D), front gore (L), back tunic section (L), back (B) and front tunic section (K) are laid on a lengthwise fold of the ratine. The collar may also be placed on the fold between the back tunic section and the back. This leaves only the front and the sleeve to be placed on a lengthwise thread of the material.

In the construction the skirt is perhaps the most difficult part. To make this first, slash the front gore to left of center front on small "o" perforations for opening. Pleat back gore, creasing on double "o" perforations, bring folded edge to single small "o" perforations and stitch. Join gores as notched. Pleat, creasing on lines of slot perforations, bring folded edges together at seam and press. Join tunic sections as notched, leaving left side edges free above large "O" perforation in front tunic section for placket. Gather upper edge between double "TT" perforations. Arrange on gores centers and seams even; stitch upper edges together. Sew to lower edge of waist over stay, centers even.

The fancy buttons that trim the front of the waist should be of the belt material.

SAM MONTGOMERY TO BE CANDIDATE

For Congress in the Second District on Two Tickets to Succeed Brown.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—Sam B. Montgomery, of Kingwood, who is here with A. M. Belcher, of Charleston, attorney for the miners' union, for the purpose of pressing charges against Judge Dayton, hopes to be the congressional candidate of the Republican and Progressive parties in the Second district. Unless he changes his mind he expects to be nominated by the Progressives and endorsed by the Republicans, or vice versa, he is not particular. But he wants the support of both parties, and expresses the belief that he can turn the trick.

On June 20 the Republicans and Progressives of Preston county hold a joint primary, and Mr. Montgomery is going to enter, expecting to pull out a solid delegation from Preston as a starter. Montgomery thinks that fusion is the card which will be played in West Virginia this year, as it was two years ago, and he believes it will win, only more so this year, for he says that it will be a solid anti-Democratic delegation that will be sent to Washington.

The sentiment in West Virginia, he says, is running strong against the Democratic party, and the partisans opposed to the Democratic party are getting together.

"It looks mighty bad for the Democratic party in West Virginia," says Handsome Sam. "Fact is, it is looking powerfully bad for that party in all parts of the country. I have had

GET PROMISE

Do a Delegation of West Virginia Women That Suffrage Bill Will Be Introduced.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—A delegation of West Virginia suffragists visited the capitol Friday and got a promise from Chairman Henry, of the rules committee, that a suffrage bill would be considered by the House of Representatives before the end of the present Congress. No assurance was given by Mr. Henry that the matter would be taken up before the end of the present session. In fact he assured them quite to the contrary, but said that the present Congress would not expire before the suffrage matter had been considered.

The delegation from West Virginia was led by Mrs. Milton McNeillan, of Parkersburg, while Miss Doris Stevens, of Washington, who recently made several speeches in West Virginia on the subject of suffrage, assisted in piloting the delegation through the capitol. They were joined by Congressman M. M. Neely, of Fairmont, and Hunter H. Moss, of Parkersburg, both of whom have taken a decisive stand for suffrage, and were introduced by them to Congressman Henry, who outlined his views as to when the suffrage matter could get a hearing in the House. The delegation seemed pleased with the assurance he gave them that the present Congress would not finally adjourn without considering their cause.

CHIEF CONLON

Will Finish His Work at Local Fire Department Coming Saturday.

Saturday will be the last day of instruction in fire drills by Ex-Battalion Chief John B. Conlon, of the New York fire department, and he will leave that evening for New York.

Chief Conlon stated that the men were very proficient in ladder, hose, nozzle and rope work, and that the demonstration with the life net this week would place them in a position to thoroughly do any work of this character.

In reply to a direct question concerning progress the men had made, Chief Conlon said that he had never had a set of men under him who progressed any faster, and that he personally had taken a great deal of interest, on account of the eagerness with which the men had taken up and pursued the instructions. He stated this was one of the first things to which his attention was called after his arrival here, and that he felt from the first that the instruction would be beneficial, on account of the way the men had taken to the work.

Saturday the men were put through a drill with the life net, and several volunteered to make a high jump, but Chief Conlon would not permit this until they are more familiar with the workings of the net, although all of them jumped in it from the top of a one story building. Next week Chief Isenhart will resume the drills and instructions which have been going on under Chief Conlon the last three weeks.
